PRESIDENT'S LETTER

Greetings and welcome to your 2022 SSSF National Championships! The SSSF board of directors, staff and everyone involved in this wonderful event are glad to be back at the Cardinal Center for what is shaping up to be another record attendance year! At the time this program is going to press, the SCTP and SASP nationals have yet again set new records for attendance and event participation with a combined total of over 4,000 participating athletes and over 10,000 event entries. Thank YOU for your commitment in attending despite ever increasing costs in this inflationary year.

Our thanks also go out to all the sponsors, donors, and industry partners we have supporting our programs and foundation. We could not conduct such quality programs and championship events without all your support. Be sure to take some time to visit with all our sponsors and partners who have a presence at the event and thank them for their support. While on vendor row, be sure to stop into the SCTP/SASP store to get your official event shirts and other swag. The vendor shops at the Cardinal Center will be open and are sure to have everything you need and more!

In addition to all the competition shooting events we also have several special events to participate in. Opening ceremonies will be Wednesday night at the grandstands with the parade of teams, recognition of scholarship recipients and all scholastic team members plus some special guests.

There will be lots happening through the week and the best way to stay updated on news and other opportunities throughout the event is by joining our text messaging list. Simply text SSSFnationals to 877-617-6454 to sign up. I hope you enjoy your time at YOUR National Championships! We are glad you are here! Please be sure to share some of those special moments in your social media posts by tagging them with #SCTPNationals2022 and #SASPnationals2022.

Again, thank you for choosing to spend part of your summer with us in Ohio! We appreciate your participation in our programs!

Best of luck to all competitors – be safe and have fun!

SHOW YOUR COMMITMENT TO FIREARM SAFETY

Pledge to Follow the Four Today

Shooting sports are great for learning sportsmanship, integrity and teamwork. But they're also a great opportunity to learn about firearm safety and responsible gun handling.

Lead others by example and always remember these four key rules:

RULE 01

Treat all firearms as if they are loaded.

RULE 02

Never point the muzzle at anything you are not willing to destroy.

RULE 03

Keep your finger off the trigger until you're ready to fire.

RULE 04

Always be sure of your target and what is beyond it.

Ready to commit?

Caledon Shotguns

For Kids

for the junior shooters out there and hope that I can continue to help promote shooting for the future. About six months ago I was given a pair of FAUST Caledon Over and Under (O/U) shotguns to try out - a 12-gauge and a Youth Model 20 gauge. I have since shot both many times and have really enjoyed doing so. The standard 12-gauge model features a 34 1/2" length of pull, automatic ejection, magnetic lock, and a single slide-action. The highest quality Turkish walnut is meticulously shaped, oiled, and hand polished to perfection. All models are offered in a 30" 28" or 26" barrel. The 12-gauge model weighs 7.25 pounds, while the 20-gauge weighs a modest 5.5 pounds. The Caledon performs well on sporting clays courses and carries well in the field. Many classic and timeless qualities make the Caledon unique among others in the field. The Youth Caledon has a barrel length of 25" x 12-1/2" length of pull and weighs only 5.5 lbs.

In the fall, I used both shotguns for hunting a variety of hush and very steep. The birds like it where they think they are safe from hunters, which is many miles away from easy access. I used the 12-gauge and absolutely loved it! It was great for the difficult terrain. When you hike all day long and use all your energy to get to where you want to be (which is on top of the bird), you want your gun to perform flawlessly. The FAUST passed with flying colors.

Ease of assembly. The two FAUSTs were a snap to put together and came apart easily. Both had a very tight action. A tight action is important if you want your gun to last a long time, which these guns will.

How it felt in my hands. The guns felt great in my hands, and I really enjoyed shooting them both. The 12-gauge fit me perfectly and shot right where I wanted it to. It was really smooth to shoot and easy to swing at a moving bird or target. The barrel was just long enough so that you wouldn't miss something that short enough that it could be swung around with any type of fast-moving object. The weight and balance were just what I needed. It was fun to make it count. The 20-gauge was also fun to shoot. It was just what I needed for that difficult terrain in other ways. It was lightweight and easy to shoot fast-moving birds because of this. I had a blast shooting both guns, and both felt great.

Sights. Each gun had a large brass bead at the end of its top barrel which was great. You could see birds and targets with great ease. The field of vision was enough that you could see where you were shooting and the target at the same time. I would not change the sight picture at all.

Recall. The recoil was noticeable but manageable. Both light target loads and heavy game loads were fine to shoot through the gun, and with the interchangeable choke tubes, you could adjust the pattern of the gun if you wanted to.

Safety. The guns had a safety on the top of the receiver, which was a much better safety as you have to turn it off every time you load the gun. This is great for bird hunting, which are what these guns are really made for, but not so much for shooting clay targets. The safety was easy to get to and turn off when it was time to shoot.

These guns were great and I would not change anything on either of them. They were awesome in every aspect, and I had a blast trying them out!

Thanks again, Junior Shooters, for allowing me to write this article for you.

CAPTIONS

1. FAUST's Caledon shotguns have light actions and are available in a Youth Model (top shotgun) as well as adult sized.
2. The forearm clips in (they're engraved) and operates smoothly.
3. The engraving on the left side of the receiver adds a nice touch of elegance to a very functional hunting shotgun.
4. Philip with his dog and the Caledon 12-gauge out hunting pheasant.

5. Top view of the receiver shows the beautiful engraving and the clear metal-to-wood fit.
6. The bottom of the receiver and trigger guard are exquisitely engraved.

upland birds and had great success with both of them. Our day of pheasant hunting was very successful. The day that day with our first shot. The day was both fun and successful. So much recoil making it easy to shoot. The day was not cheap, but if you buy the right one, it never decrease in value and will

Another great aspect of these guns is the sensitivity. You could use them for almost anything. From the clay discipline (sporting clays, skeet, trap) to upland game, even to waterfowl, they are an all around good gun. I took the 20-gauge hunting many times for small and doves and loved using it. Both guns were so beautiful and at the same time rugged and reliable. The pleasure of regaining for a shotgun is a cherished hunting. It is probably the most challenging form of bird hunting, but also the most rewarding. Clucker country is

As the owner of the Cardinal Shooting Center, Jack Fishburn supported the Scholastic Clay Target Program and Scholastic Action Shooting Program like no other. He was very instrumental in making sure our programs had a place we could call "home".

We will miss him tremendously but his legacy will live on in the Cardinal Shooting Center that Jack built. Nationals is confirmed to be the biggest year yet for both programs and we know Jack would be proud.
